STRATEGY + COMMUNICATION + FACILITATION + DIPLOMACY

geoconsult™ is a business development and advanced communication advisory group offering a broad range of strategic facilitation and specialized capital-related services to clients worldwide.

We seek dynamic opportunities to harmonize business and industry practices with emerging environmental policy (global, national, state, local), catalyzing clean technology and renewable energy deployment, investment flow and market development. Within this scope, we can appropriately harness creativity, relational development and strategic facilitation expertise towards advancing important sustainability initiatives, and do so in a business context.

Capital Placement & Project Financing

We link Financiers with Project Developers, nurturing synergistic and strategic relationships.

Our growing network of investors seeks to place capital, make acquisitions, hold positions and provide thematic structured financing for environment and energy projects in strategic geographic markets worldwide and select industry sectors and sub-sectors.

Working closely with highly specialized affiliates worldwide, we connect viable commercial projects with mission critical, early stage development and incremental growth investment capital.

We choose our projects carefully and have a strong professional and personal interest in our client's ongoing success and beneficial leadership impact on respective industry sectors. We seek to optimize cross-sectoral project integration.
